```
+ rans = read only(u)
                                               Copy: u = v1
  values.reject do |val|
                                           Call: v2 = values.reject ran.include?val
                                                 Branch
     read_only(u)|.include?val
                                          Copy: val Call: v3 = read_only(u) end
Sql: SELECT * from custom fields query node
JOIN ... JOIN ... WHERE user id = ?
                                                               data edge
                                             Call:v3.include?val
                                                              control edge
                                               (b) ADG
                  Ruby code
```